DOT & RAY

Foreword

Years from now you will leaf through your 1954 annual and recall various experiences. We on the yearbook staff sincerely hope that the "Land of Enchantment" will bring you pleasure on a reminiscent night in the future.

Our most sincere thanks are given to the faculty, students, and friends who have helped us to make this book possible.

We give to you your 1954 BOBCAT CHANT with best wishes from the senior class.

Dedication

To the parents of Refugio High School we dedicate this yearbook because we are grateful to you for . . .

P—atience which we did not often deserve.

A—bility to understand young people.

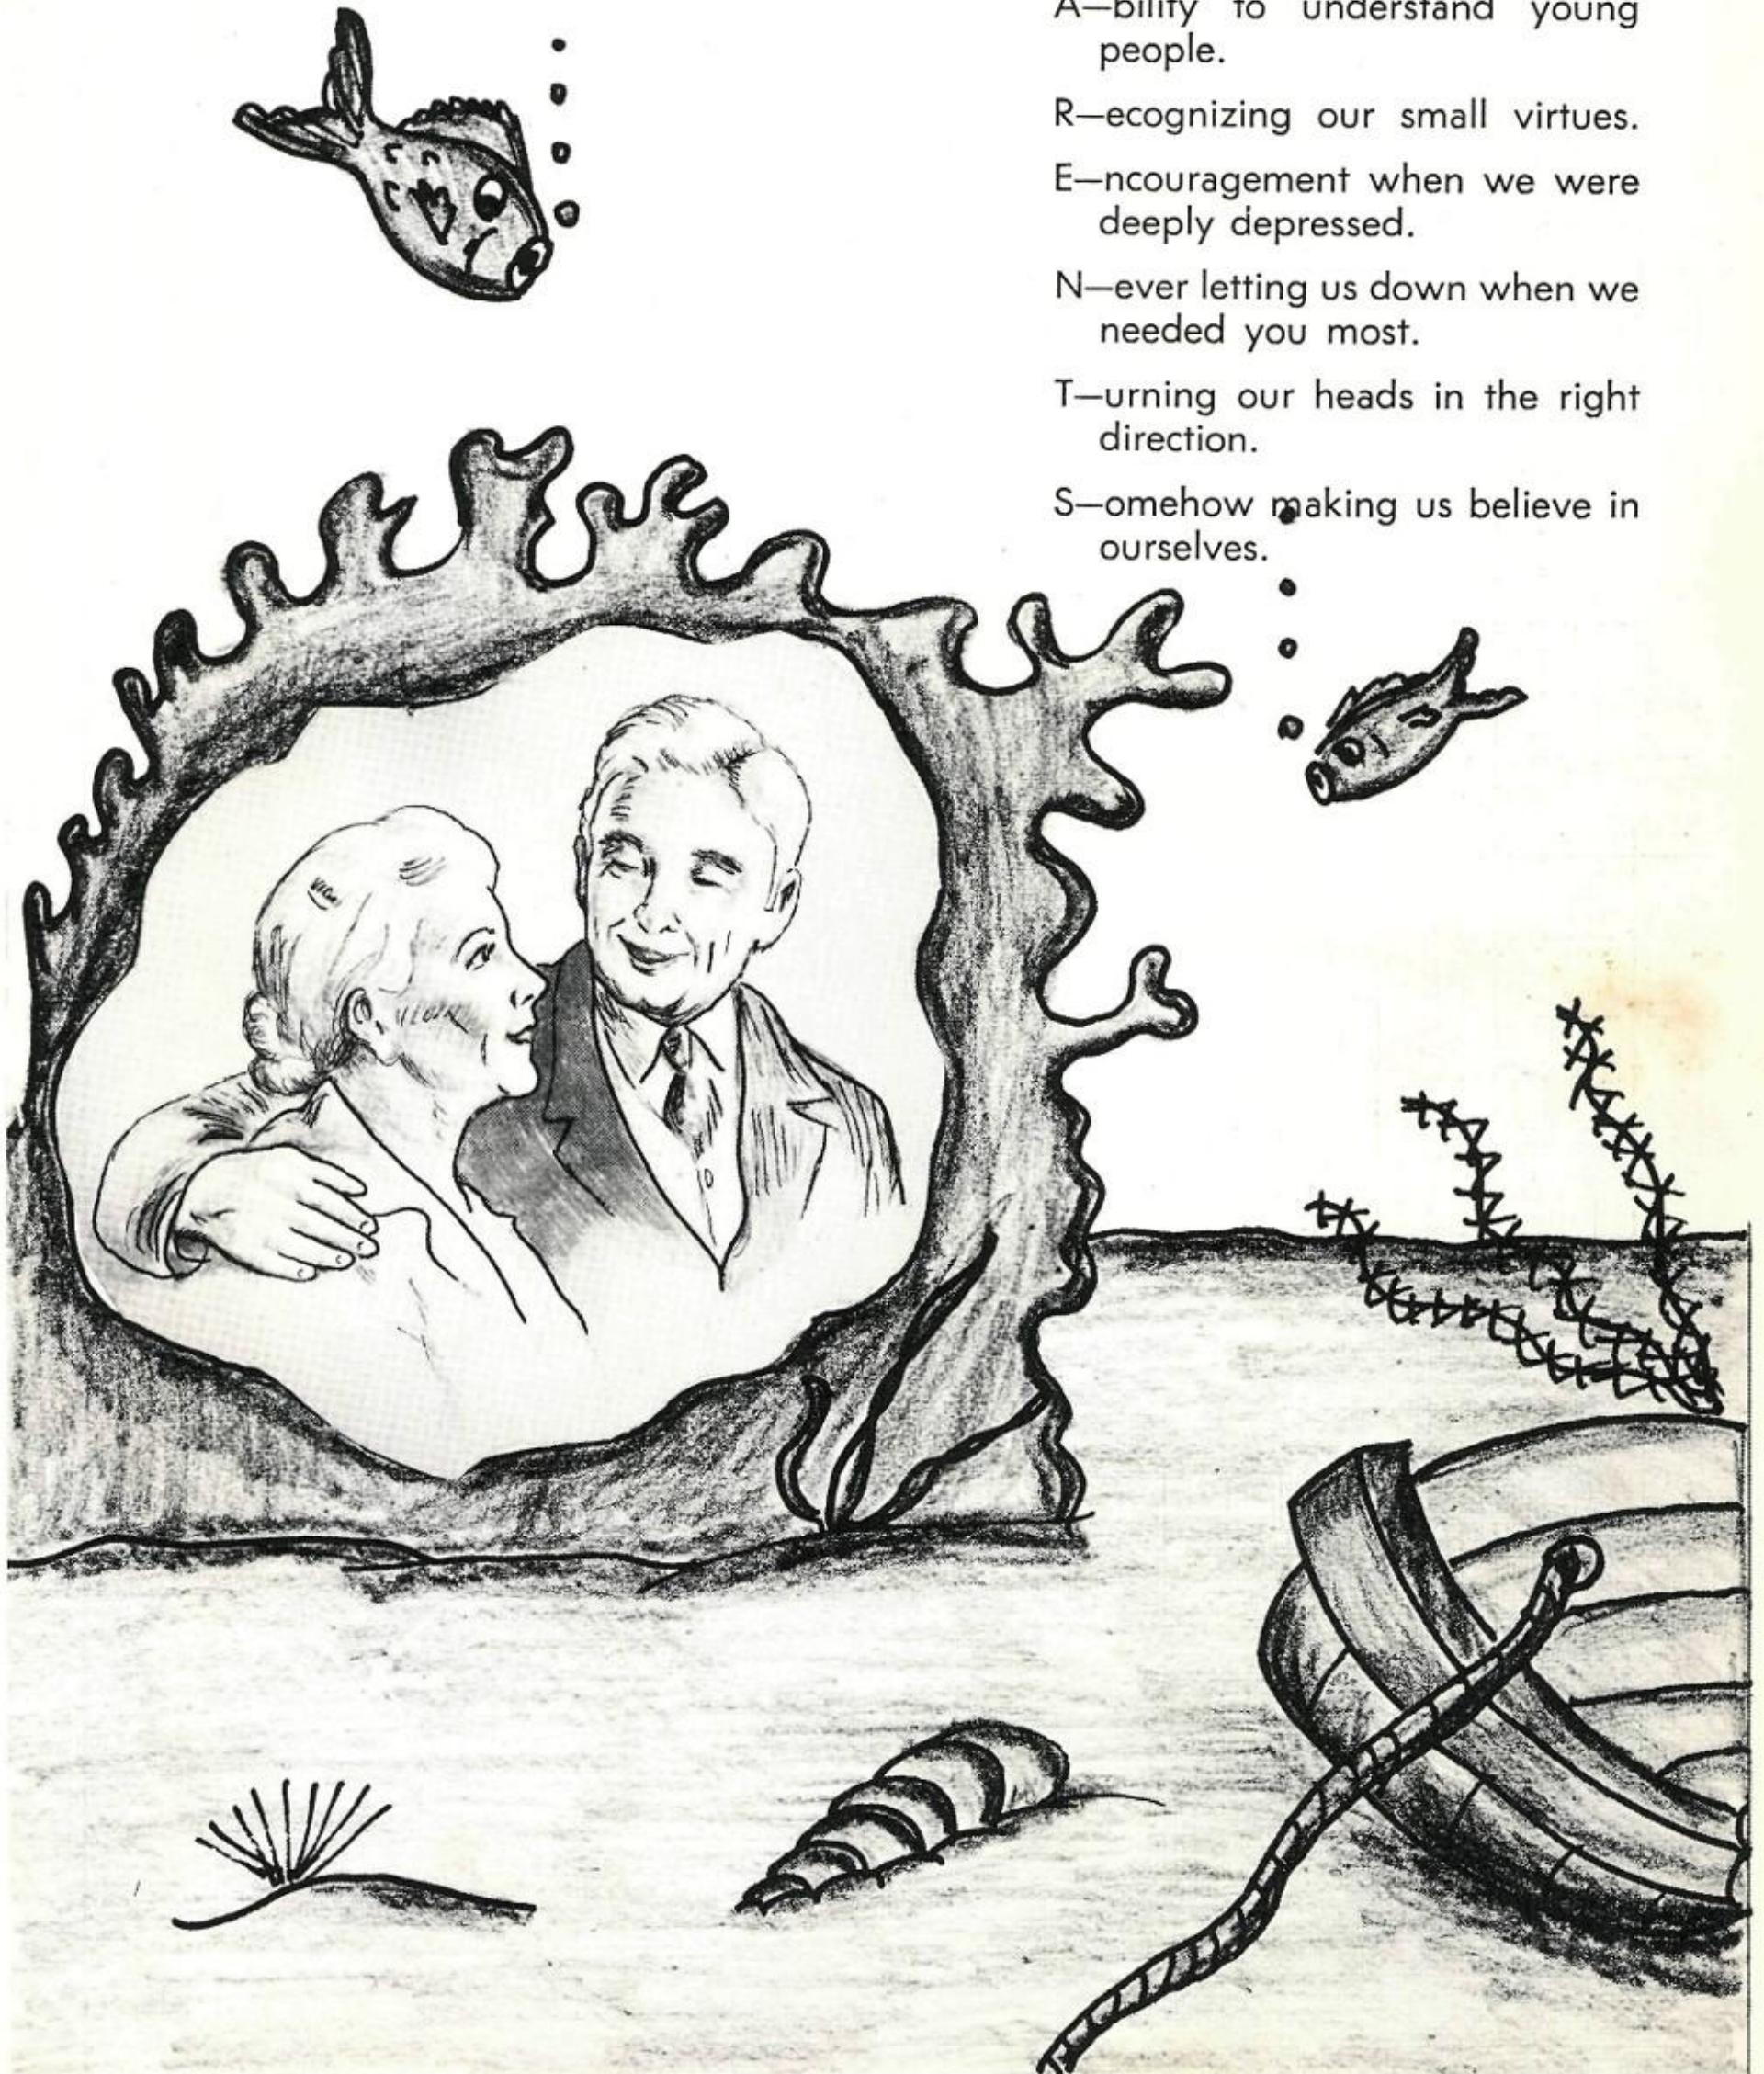

R—ecognizing our small virtues.

E—ncouragement when we were deeply depressed.

N—ever letting us down when we needed you most.

T—urning our heads in the right direction.

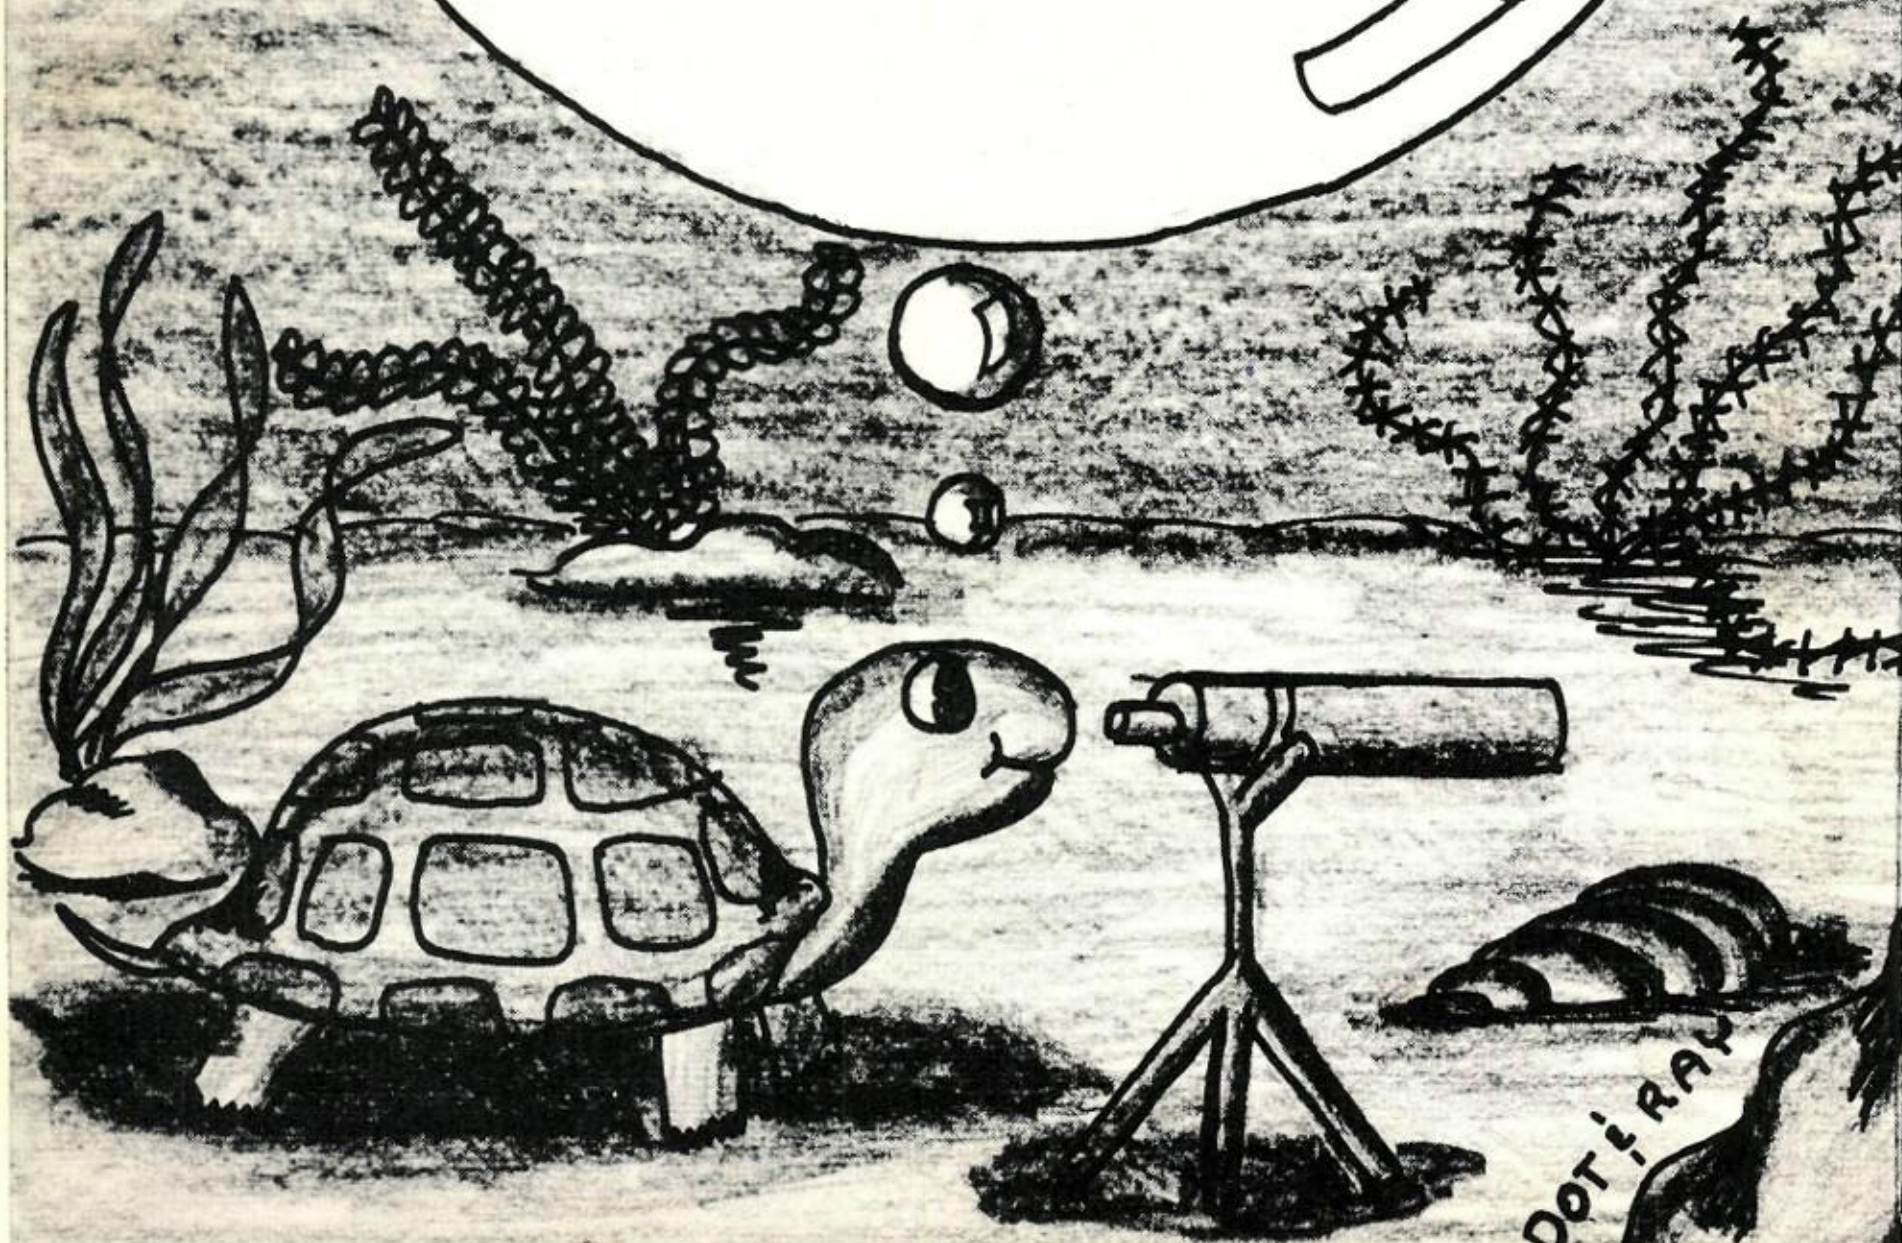

S—omehow making us believe in ourselves.

MY ALMA MATER

My Alma Mater,
My Alma Mater,
Dear Refugio High.
Oh, how I love you,
My Alma Mater;
Love you 'til I die.
Through the years
I will remember
Days before we had to part
Mem'ries that will ever linger
Always in my heart.
My Alma Mater,
My Alma Mater.
Dear Refugio High.
Oh, how I love you,
My Alma Mater;
Love you 'til I die.

The success of any school may be measured by the loyalty of its student body. Refugio High School, in the final analysis, depends upon you who constitute this group. Your devotion to her ideals are her richest assets. As your Alma Mater has sought to hold up high standards of character to you, may you repay her in loyal service to the generation to which you are a part.

A.R. Pointer

Congratulations to the members of the Annual Staff, Miss Rice and Mr. Morgan, your sponsors, for another splendid annual. It is through the tireless efforts of you folks and the other Bobcat Chant staffs before you that our high school annual is fast becoming a treasured possession of every Refugio High School "Ex."

Its bountiful pages steeped in school activities and rich in high school tradition contribute much to the school spirit of today, and it will open the door to many pleasant memories when the covers are parted many years hence.

Every student in high school has a definite place in life. It is my sincere wish that every student finds that place in which he can best be of service to his fellow man and happy with himself.

If each student succeeds in finding his place in the pattern of life to the extent that each of you have accomplished your given task in this year's annual, his will be a happy life.

Thanks to you, the staff, for a FIRST RATE annual.

R H. Renfro

High School Principal

Education—thinking, learning, and remembering—is the greatest adventure of the human race. Its thrill is not confined to the rich or the strong but is available to all.

Whenever you see a young person who rejoices in the opportunity to learn about all manner of things, rejoice with him for his shall be a happy and purposeful life.

Burke Hill

JUNIOR HIGH SCHOOL PRINCIPAL

May I congratulate the Annual Staff and its sponsors for the fine pictorial record they have assembled of the 1953-54 school year.

Benjamin Franklin once said, "Resolve to perform what you ought; perform without fail what you resolve." Think about this. Do something about it. You will be well rewarded if you do.
